Proper Education
Needed to Cut Highway Toll: Att'y Summers

WELL, WE HAD A CRASH over at Eldorado early yesterday that could have killed or burned up three fellows. But this time things were in the favor of all but the driver, who suffered injuries.

Things are happening on our highways every day and all kinds of solutions are being offered.

Arthur W. Summers, however, believes proper education is the best answer and realizes that it takes time.

The well-known attorney from Eldorado wrote Timmo a letter last week after I asked for viewpoints on the subject, and this is what he has to say:

"There is no quick cure for the slaughter on our highways. It is a long-run proposition of training and educating drivers. No matter the worth of a driver from a physical and mechanical standpoint, if his mental attitude is wrong he is a prospective killer.

"Some of the states of mind underlying auto accidents are those of the bully, the careless and ignorant types and those who will assert their 'rights' regardless of consequences; and of course there are others.

"In the meantime, I believe that the most advantageous thing we could do right now would be to adopt Governor Stratton's suggestion of a speed limit and bear down on its enforcement. Such action would lessen the number of accidents by perhaps only a small percentage figure, but it would greatly lessen the number of deaths and serious injuries. A crash at 70 will almost always kill; one at 30 rarely does."

I invite more comment on the subject.

AN ARDENT SPORTS fan is gone. He's Edward (Gus) Pool, who died last week at the age of 88.

For years I've seen Mr. Pool at the basketball games. You have seen him if you went. A quiet little man with a white mustache and wearing a cap. He made no show—just sat and enjoyed the contest to the utmost although he was in his eighties. I remember one time he made the trip on the bus with the football team to an out-of-town game—"for luck."

MAYOR SHERMAN HUGHES of Broughton dropped into town yesterday afternoon. He wanted to express publicly the appreciation of the community of Broughton for the Harrisburg fire department at downtown fire there early Sunday.

The Harrisburg, Eldorado, Norris City and McLeansboro departments responded and kept the fire from spreading.

"The entire community expresses

Diplomatic Relations to Be Established

Final Communique Of Talks Will Give Provisions of Pact

MOSCOW (UPI)—West Germany and the Soviet Union signed an agreement tonight covering the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

The agreement was reached at the end of five days of talks between delegations headed by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

It was considered one of the most significant international acts since the end of World War II, in which the two nations were bitter enemies.

The historic arrangement was signed by Adenauer and Bulganin in the white marble chamber of the Spiridonovka Palace.

Provisions of the agreement were not revealed immediately.

Details were expected to be given in a final joint communique prepared by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Bonn Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

Molotov and Von Brentano sat down together to draw up the final statement after a prolonged final-plenary session which ended the dramatic talks.

Both Adenauer and Bulganin seemed pleased with the final agreement.

The Soviet premier said smiling: "Everything has ended well, as I told you it would yesterday."

Adenauer was reported to have demanded three major concessions from the Soviet Union in return for an agreement to insist on Russian demands for the restoration of full, formal diplomatic relations between the two countries.

A member of the West German delegation said they were:

1. Amnesty for Germans still held in the Soviet Union.

2. Agreement that the final borders of Germany in the event of reunification will be decided only by a formal peace treaty.

3. A clear understanding that full diplomatic relations between Bonn and Moscow will not imply recognition of the Communist East German government by the Bonn regime.

Agriculture Important to Area, Dr. W. E. Keeper Tells Rotarians

The importance of agriculture in southern Illinois and the work of the college of agriculture at Southern Illinois university were discussed by the school's dean, Dr. W. E. Keeper, before the Harrisburg Rotary club yesterday.

Dr. Keeper, a native of southern Illinois himself who returned to this area five years ago to become dean of the college, pointed out that in southern Illinois more people are employed in agriculture than in any other industry—that in gross income, agriculture provides the most also.

And a point that he brought out was that the increasing of agricultural production in southern Illinois from 25 to 50 per cent in a community would be equivalent to two or three industries from the standpoint of income.

"So sometimes proper encouragement can create an increase in production which results in a more prosperous area," he stated.

Dr. Keeper, who declared that here in southern Illinois "we're inclined to underestimate our possibilities, such as resources and markets," told what the college of agriculture has done, is doing and what it plans to do.

Objectives set up include the determination through research of what can be adapted to southern Illinois, and to pass on to the people the results of the research.

The people get the knowledge, he continued, through both on-campus and off-campus teaching. Now, he said, students can get a bachelor's degree in agriculture at SIU through a four-year course of study, and that a winter course is given there for anybody of any age. Up to last year the course lasted six weeks and this winter it will run for four weeks. Last year the ages of those enrolled ranged from 18 to 65, he said, the oldest member being a retired farmer who added much to the course because of his practical knowledge.

Special Guests Present

Off-campus, he said, the school gives about 20 six-weeks courses during the winter, the classes meeting for about two and a half hours one night a week. These courses are given in areas where they are requested.

Dr. Keeper told of his college's co-operation with the University of Illinois, the Soil Conservation Service, the Farmer's Home administration and other agencies as "we try to improve conditions at SIU to give the best possible service."

Paul Halbersleben was program chairman and special guests were Carl Vance of Carrier Mills, R. L. Morris of Galatia, Cecil Nelson of Independence and Lowell Wise of Harrisburg. Soil Conservation district directors, and Thomas Morgan, farm planner for the district.

President William Hopkins presided at the meeting, and announced that the annual Rotary Golf tournament would be held at Herrin Sept. 20 with teams of four or individual Rotarians eligible to enter.

County Board Boosts Pay Of R. D. Brown

State Also Okays
New 6-Year Term
For Highway Sup't

The Saline County Board of Supervisors held its regular September meeting today, and its actions included raising the salary of R. D. Brown, county superintendent of highways.

Last month the board voted to recommend Mr. Brown for a new six-year term as superintendent and the state division of highways, to whom the recommendation was made, has approved the appointment.

Today his salary, which has been $2,100 per year, was raised to $3,600, and his mileage fee was hiked from five to seven cents a mile. It was pointed out that Brown's salary has been far below the average paid highway superintendents.

Other action of the board:

Approved the annual budget and appropriation ordinance of the Egyptian Health department. The department comprises Saline, Galatin and White counties and Saline's share is $27,442 for the fiscal year.

Approved the road and bridge levies as turned in by the township highway commissioners of the county.

Reports Approved

Accepted the low bid of the Midland Construction Co., which was $270, for repair of the roof of the county jail and tabled action on rebuilding the jail's front porch.

Accepted the reports of Treasurer Maynard Cannon for July and August.

Approved bids of L. J. Woolard and the Egyptian Concrete Co. for materials for road work in Cottage township and bids of Paul Mason and Egyptian for road materials for Carrier Mills township.

Approved petitions to pay one-half of the cost of bridge repair in Galatia township, total cost estimated at $1,860, and one-half of the cost of bridge repair in Carrier Mills township, total cost estimated at $6,033. The townships pay the other half.

Accepted the report of the grand jury which inspected the county jail yesterday.

Accepted the report of J. H. Pittman, county mine inspector.

Directed Chairman William Alfred Smith to name two vacancies on the Saline County Welfare Services committee. Terms of Robert Whitney and Howard Patterson have expired.

Community Concert Membership Drive Planned at Meeting of Workers

An enthusiastic group of officers and others who will work in the annual membership campaign of the Harrisburg Community Concert association met at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Hart last Friday evening for a potluck supper and planning session. After everyone had enjoyed the delicious meal the meeting was called to order by the president of the association, John L. Schork. Mr. Schork and Mrs. Joseph Hart, the association's general chairman, described the work that had been done by various officers since the close of the last concert season and told of a number of artists who had been considered for the coming year of concerts.

The association has taken a "hold date" for Feb. 4 on the Woodwind Ensemble of Paris, a concert that will be quite different to any that has been given in Harrisburg heretofore, and a group of artists everyone will enjoy hearing. The remainder of the concerts, both as to artists and the date of appearance, will be announced after the close of the week's membership

Arrest Couple in Death of Heiress; Mother Treated in Mental Hospital

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash said today "two or more" additional persons may be arrested soon in connection with the abortion death of Mrs. Doris Jean Silver Ostreicher, 22-year-old heiress to a food market fortune.

Three persons—the heiress' mother and a couple with police records—already have been arrested in the case.

The mother, Mrs. Gertrude Silver, 49, wife of a food chain executive, was released in $1,500 bail for a further hearing when it was determined by psychiatrists at her arraignment Monday that she needs immediate treatment in a mental institution. She has been suffering from what her physician described as "bereavement shock."

The couple, bartender Milton Schwartz, 48, and his beautiful wife, Rosalie, were arrested Monday night by six detectives at the home of relatives. They were released in $5,000 bail for arraignment on Thursday.

The Schwartzes, both with police records as thieves, have been charged with the actual abortion attempt, in addition to perjury.

Mrs. Silver Monday was declared unfit to be arraigned by two "impartial" psychiatrists.

Magistrate Elias Myers permitted bail on the promise of Mrs. Silver's personal psychiatrist to have her admitted to a mental hospital for treatment until she is able to appear for a hearing.

Find Body of Boy, 14, Missing From His Home for Five Months

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)—Police investigated the possibility of murder today in the death of a 14-year-old boy who disappeared from his home five months ago.

The body of Peter Certik, known as "Abe Lincoln" at Highland Park, Ill., high school where he was a student, was found by two squirrel hunters late Monday in a tangled patch of woods west of here.

The body was described by police as "little more than a skeleton."

"It looks like homicide," said Lake County Pathologist Dr. Hugh Wilson.

He said it was unlikely that Peter wandered by a circuitous route to the place, entered the bushes and then suffered a fatal illness or accident.

County Coroner Robert Babcox said he definitely was investigating the possibility of murder.

Object of Long Search

He said that there were no marks of violence on the skull, "but that doesn't mean a thing. He could have been strangled, knifed, any one of a dozen things."

"We know he didn't walk into that deep woods, lie down and die."

Babcox said a coroner's jury will be sworn in today.

The boy, object of an eight-state search since his disappearance April 1 from his Bannockburn home north of Chicago, was found in a dense grove of trees about 200 yards from a county road by Adam Pruitt, 39, and his wife, Fanny, 45, of Waukegan, Ill.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Ethyle Certik, informed by telephone that her son's body had been found, said:

Union Orders Support for N. Y. Workers

ILA Apparently Seeking Federal Intervention

NEW YORK (AP)—A dock workers strike spread rapidly along the eastern seaboard today.

All New England ports, Philadelphia, Pa., Jacksonville, Fla., and Savannah, Ga., were shut down by a "general strike" order sent out by the union to support 30,000 striking New York harbor dockers in their fight against the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

Baltimore piers were being worked pending a decision of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) district council which began meeting at 10 a. m.

Work also was uninterrupted on New Orleans piers.

At Miami, longshoremen were called to a meeting to take a strike vote which union officials predicted would tie up the port.

Truckers were advised to halt all cargoes bound for export from New York. Railroads were to consider today an embargo against shipments to pierheads along the entire coast.

Union Defies Court

The ILA's top leadership ordered a port shutdown from Maine to Texas Monday, apparently in an effort to obtain federal intervention in the dispute which the governors of New York and New Jersey have insisted must first be handled by the waterfront commission.

The union defied court orders obtained by both the commission and the waterfront employers. Shippers, not involved in any dispute with the union, have claimed damages for one million dollar-a-day losses from the seven-day strike.

Perishables were spoiling on piers throughout the harbor and other cargo lay idle in tied-up freighters.

Loss to the longshoremen themselves, in wages and welfare benefits, was estimated at $2,270,000 so far by the New York Shipping Assn., representing employers.

The strike erupted from long feuding between the union and the bi-state commission which was set up two years ago to police a cleanup of waterfront corruption.

Seeks Rehearing Court

The ILA has charged the commission with interfering with its contract relations with employers and attempting to break up the union. The commission says the union is trying to destroy it.

The basic issue is believed by many observers to be the union's attempt to recapture for itself control of waterfront hiring, a control specially taken from the union by law on the ground it was a major contribution to waterfront graft.

The union has presented no list of specific grievances but has demanded a hearing by the involved governors a "non-partisan" group or legislative committee.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey have refused to go over the head of the commission at least until grievances have been presented to and heard by the agency. Harriman has offered ILA President William A. Bradley assurances of a fair hearing by the commission.

Bradley and other union officers must show cause in state Supreme Court Wednesday why they should not be fined or sent to jail for contempt of court.

In Washington, Clyde Mills, assistant director of the Federal Mediation Service, said the dispute "does not appear to be a labor-management dispute in the normal sense, and therefore we do not intend to intervene."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:
Army Bungles Murder Probe;
Murder Weapon Mysteriously
Vanishes; Vicious Killer Goes Free.

(Editor's Note — While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation his column is being written by members of his staff.)

WASHINGTON — Inside story can now be told of how the Army bungled a murder investigation and let a brutal killer go free.

The crime was committed nearly 10 years ago—at 3 a. m., Jan. 7, 1946. Three American officers were backed to death with a meat ax while they lay sleeping in a peaceful villa overlooking the Danube at Passau, Germany. Their bodies were doused with gasoline and set afire to destroy the evidence. Object of the assault was Maj.

Everett Cofran, stern but fair military governor of Passau, disliked by his officers but loved by his enlisted men. The other two victims
—Capt. Adrian Wessler and Lt.
Stanley Rosewater—were innocent visitors who chose the wrong, tragic night to call on the major. They had intended to stop only a few minutes en route to Vienna. But Cofran persuaded them to spend the night—in his downstairs bedrooms. The killer apparently chopped up Wessler and Rosewater by mistake as he groped in the dark from bedroom to bedroom. He finally found Cofran asleep in the attic and murdered him last. The gasoline inferno left behind by the murderer, badly burned the corpses and destroyed part of the villa. A neighbor also heard a splash in the Danube, and divers later fished a bloodstained meat ax out of the river.

"TIGER MAN" SUSPECTED

The ugly finger of suspicion pointed to a junior officer, a morose man who Army psychiatrists claimed had the latent killer instincts of a tiger. Overwhelming evidence was piled up against him.
Then the Army mysteriously dropped the investigation and sent the suspect back to the States.

Nine years later, the Army dusted the cobwebs off the case and drew up a secret murder indictment against the officer. But by this time exhibit No. 1, the murder

Sen. Jenner Gloomy Over GOP Farm Vote

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind) said today that falling farm prices may cost the Republicans a chance to regain control of Congress next year even with President Eisenhower heading the ticket.

The Indiana Republican, back from a grass roots survey of his state, said in an interview that "it's going to be hard for the Republicans to carry congressional elections in the Midwest if the farm picture deteriorates much more."

"Some farm program has got to be evolved," Jenner said.

He said the four-year fall of farm prices, coupled with the rise in cost of the goods farmers buy, has hurt not only midwestern farmers, but small businessmen whose customers are chiefly farmers.

Unless their troubles are solved, or at least eased, he said, the Republicans in 1956 may not only fail to win new congressional seats but may lose some which they now hold by narrow margins.

Jenner's analysis was even gloomier than that of most GOP leaders, who have conceded that the farm vote now appears to be their biggest trouble spot. Republican state chairmen, meeting here last week, marked down the farm problems as a special area of concern.

Jenner said talks with local and district GOP leaders convinced him that if the farm depression continues, the 1956 election in the Midwest may be "another 1948."

A year of Democratic victory. In his state, he said, many farmers who normally vote Republican stay away from the polls.

ax, had mysteriously vanished.
Then the Army ran into a legal block trying to extradite him back to Germany. The case is now so snarled in red tape it may never go to trial.

Meanwhile the murder suspect, the man with the tiger traits, is free in this country. Who knows whether some gloomy night he may strike again.

This column has painstakingly investigated the Passau triple murder.
Here are the facts which the Army knew 10 years ago but did nothing about.

Major Cofran, who enlisted as a private in World War I at 15 and came up through the ranks, was generally unpopular with his officers. But one officer had the most cause to hate him. This officer had considered himself in line to be the next military governor, then Cofran not only recommended someone else but gave the officer a low efficiency rating. Cofran also threatened to investigate the officer's German girl friend on the suspect's family was mixed up in a shady deal. Finally, two days before the murder, Cofran summarily fired the girl from her military government job.

CLUES PILE UP

These grudges boiled up in the officer to the point that he admittedly quarreled with Cofran shortly before the triple killing. He went so far, in fact, as to ask another officer to pull strings at higher headquarters to get Cofran transferred. This attempt to remove the major failed.

But what about the ghastly crime itself? Investigators concluded it could have been committed only by an athletic person thoroughly familiar with the villa. The officer-suspect was a former gym instructor and combat veteran. Before the grim night, he made a careful inspection of the villa, including Cofran's quarters, on the excuse his girl friend was in charge of returning it.

Here are a host of other clues
pointing to the same officer:

1. He spilled gasoline on his pants the eve of the killings. He claimed it happened while tinkering with his car.

2. He left fingerprints on five gasoline cans found in the charred villa. His explanation: He had discovered the cans during his inspection, hefted each one to determine how full it was, and tested the lids for tightness.

3. He made three visits to the villa on the murder night. He gave as his reason that he wanted to learn from Cofran the results of a meeting which, investigation revealed, had already been discussed with the suspect earlier the same day.

4. He was seen before the murder in the cellar of a nearby villa where the murder ax had been located.

5. A witness beneath the suspect's apartment reported hearing him shortly before the fire was discovered. At first, he claimed, to have slept uninterrupted until the fire alarm. Then he changed his statement, saying he had visited the bathroom once. Tests proved that a flushing toilet was more audible than footsteps. Yet the downstairs witness heard no flushing.

6. The fraulein who knocked on his door to report the fire swore he appeared to be wide awake.

7. He ran around aimlessly during the fire instead of taking concrete action to rescue Cofran, then believed trapped in his quarters. The suspect also ran off to summon the fire department, though he could have used two available phones and though he later admitted not knowing where the fire department was located.

8. He was discovered soapsud-ing his soiled uniform after the crime, though his washing had always been done previously by a maid.

9. He kept changing details of his story to dovetail with the testimony of witnesses. Other inconsistencies also appeared in his statement.

10. He refused to look at the bodies or attempt to identify them.
Vomit was also discovered outside his window after the killings.

LIE DETECTOR TEST

These clues were strengthened by a lie detector test, which indicated the officer was lying about his actions on the murder night.
Finally he was confined to a hospital for psychiatric examination and sodium amato (truth serum) tests. He further incriminated himself under the influence of the truth drug.

Why the Army dropped the case after nine months of intensive investigation is a mystery. It is known the Army suddenly became conscience-stricken over using lie detectors, truth serum and criminal psychiatrists to break down the suspect's story. Once he was given an overdose of the drug, which made him violent.

The fact is, however, that the officer not only was turned free but was kept on duty in the Army.
Eventually he was released in the states, but called back to duty during the Korean outbreak. He has now given up his commission.

Not until May 1954—over eight years after the Passau outrage—did the Army take action. A murder indictment was drawn up against the officer and a warrant made out for his arrest. Then the Army discovered that the murder weapon was missing.

Still the Army requested through the State Department that the officer be extradited to Germany to stand trial. The State Department sent the request to the Justice Department which suggested further investigation. The responsibility was thrown back to the military government in Germany, which had jurisdiction over the case.

In May 1955 the military government out of existence, and the suspect still hasn't been brought to trial.

This column knows the suspect's identity but will not name him because, under our laws, he is innocent until proved guilty in court.
This column suggests, however, that the evidence is formidable enough to demand a trial.

Rescue 260 from Forest Fire Near Santa Barbara

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — New blazes flared today in the California forests and the hopes of firefighters to control the 70,000 acre inferno went up in smoke.

The blaze, which flared out of control again near Santa Barbara, trapped some 260 persons for several hours Monday night in an area smaller than a city block.

The Santa Barbara fire is one of five major blazes still raging unchecked through the state. Since the first of the month, a rash of the biggest coastal brush and timber fires in California's history has blackened 350,000 acres and caused an estimated 20 million dollars damage.

The trapped group, including 55 teen-age boys, was encircled in Paradise Canyon when the six-day old blaze flared up suddenly and jumped State Highway 150. Bulldozers quickly scraped fire breaks around the area and water pumping units took actions on the perimeter of the fire.

Sheriff's deputies and California highway patrol officers then convoyed the group to safety. About 50 privately owned autos in the area were evacuated a few at a time to prevent snarling the highway, already jammed with fire-fighting equipment.

The nine year olds' Good Workers class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met Saturday evening, Sept. 10, at the home of the teacher, Mrs. George Langford.

This was the last party of the year with Mrs. Langford as the class will be promoted to the 10 year class in October.

There were 10 members and three visitors present. Games were played and refreshments of home-made ice cream, cup cakes and cookies and soft drinks were served to the following: Roberta Keltner, Janie Lavender, Phyllis Crawford, Lois Swan, Cindy Hall, Doris Watson, Georgia Sheldon, Sandra Rice, Brenda Clore, Betty Furlong and visitors, Patsy Holbrook, Mary Langford and Pauletta Grisham.

Loyal Daughters Class Meets With Mrs. Gladys Caley Gibbons

The Loyal Daughters class of the First Christian church held its September party at the home of Mrs. Gladys Caley Gibbons Tuesday evening. Mrs. J. L. Miller presided.

The devotion by Mrs. Ruth Thompson emphasized the thought, "Keep thy heart, for out of it are the issues of life."

The business meeting included reports by the following:

Mrs. Florence Roberson showed cash on hand $234.68; committees were appointed for the dinners to be served on the following Tuesday and Friday to the Business and Professional Women's club and to the United Church Women of the Southern area; Mrs. Sloan and Mrs. Gibbons moved and seconded that a new class project be the selling of "Dolly Duzits" and "Danny Duzits" dish washing devices.

Entertainment on the theme, "A Day at School," was furnished by Miss Bess Pemberton, the one having a birthday in September.

The singing lesson on the round, "Three Blind Mice," brought a reward of bubble gum.

During the sewing lesson the class in pairs decorated one another in 22 feet of narrow red crepe paper. Mrs. Naida Upchurch excelled in creating for Mrs. Carl Corrie a costume of feathery bows, cross garters, head band and ear screws. Mrs. Ben Williams in art class made the most out of a circle — "Plater" fashion.

The language "sharps" were Mrs. David Churchwell and Mrs. Upchurch, who identified all the Mother Goose characters in pantomime. Jack and Jill really fell down with a bang.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons served homemade ice cream and cupcakes. The minister, Mr. Darnell, joined Mr. Gibbons in this favorite feature of any party.

New Teachers Guests Of Harrisburg Woman's Club At Reception Monday Night

Arriving at the club room in the public library Monday evening for their first meeting of the 1955-56 club year, Harrisburg Woman's club members were surprised and elated to find the club room improved with the installation of a new tile floor covering and removal of the old platform.

New teachers were guests of the club last night and they were cordially welcomed by officers of the club, and in remarks by the club president, Mrs. L. B. Kimmel.

Mrs. Russell Malan and Mrs. H. B. Bauman, chairmen, and their committee served punch and cake as the guests arrived. On the cake table were two cardboard figurines of "pupils" and the cake was gaily decorated with "An Apple for the Teacher." Pink geraniums in front of a fan shaped arrangement of foliage made a beautiful floral decoration.

Later the Misses Kathryn and Louise Rice, whose vacation was spent in Europe, showed colored camera slides of beautiful places they had visited. Particularly beautiful were some of the scenes which they "shot" from heights in the European group.

Newcomers among faculty members of Harrisburg grade and high schools present included Mrs. Cleon Bennett, Mrs. William Harris, Mrs. Eltis Henson, and the Harrisburg teachers who are new on the staff: Miss Jane Lee Rice, Mrs. J. H. Arensman and Mrs. Pruett Hart, Mrs. Francis Jahn, Miss Delores Lienesch and Mrs. Leota Petty Leberman could not be present.

Miss Jeanne Finney, former Harrisburg Township high school student, is now working in Oak Ridge, Tenn. She is also taking University of Tennessee extension classes in chemistry and psychology.

Mrs. Ethel McKenzie has returned home after spending a week visiting in Chicago with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Clayton and family.

Soldier and Boy, 15, Captured After Break From Vincennes Jail

VINCENNES, Ind. (UP)—Charles Case, 15, and a 22-year-old soldier who allegedly helped him escape from Knox County jail Sunday night were back in custody today facing additional charges as a result of the break.

Case and Donald Clinging, Pleasant Hill, Ill., stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., were captured Monday near the Army base.

The boy and soldier were in jail together Sunday. Charles held for running away from the Knox County Orphanage and the soldier for inability to pay a speeding fine.

The soldier paid his fine Sunday night and was released.

A short time later, jailers discovered Case had escaped by sawing a hole through the bars of the cell window.

To Approve Release of 7 Jap War Criminals

Have Served Almost 10 Years in Prison at Tokyo

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States and seven other governments will soon approve the release of Japan's seven top war criminals still held in prison, it was learned today.

Diplomatic sources said the eight governments would announce in the near future that the seven "Grade A" war criminals are eligible for parole.

Two or three of the war criminals would be released almost immediately afterwards, these sources said. The others probably would be freed over the next few months.

The Japanese prisoners have served almost 10 years in Sugamo Prison in Tokyo. They were convicted of atrocities and other crimes against Allied forces in the Pacific during World War II.

They are Kingoro Hashimoto, president of the ultra right-wing Sakisei Party; Naoki Hoshino, former official of the Japanese puppet government in Manchuria; Koichi Kido, former minister of the imperial household; Hiroshi Oshima, former ambassador to Nazi Germany; Teichi Suzuki, former chief of the cabinet planning board; Okinori Kaya, former finance minister, and Kenryo Sato, former director of the army military affairs bureau.

Besides the United States, these nations have a voice in the release of the war criminals: Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, France, and the Netherlands.

At least two-thirds of the eight members of the International Military Tribunal, which conducted the war crimes trials, must approve the release of any "Class A" war criminals. Russia has no say in the matter because it did not sign the Japanese peace treaty.

Eisenhower Confers with Security Aides

DENVER — President Eisenhower scheduled early morning conferences today with his top aides in two fields of security—his own and the nation's.

Dillon Anderson, presidential assistant for national security, arrived here Monday from Washington for a conference today with the Chief Executive. But the Summer White House said it involved no emergency or sudden developments on the international front.

Earlier the President booked a call from U. E. Baughman, chief of the Secret Service whose agents guard the President constantly. Baughman's visit was described as a routine report on the "silent service's" activities.

Although the Summer White House was keeping an eye on the paralyzing Atlantic Coast dock strike, Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder said there had been no request through Monday night from the Labor Department or any of the President's advisers for him to intervene.

The President put in a full day Monday of a little work and a lot of golf and topped it off by attending dedication services Monday night for a memorial pulpit at the Corona Presbyterian church.

The Eisenhowers and Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, gave the pulpit as a memorial to deceased members of their families. They attended the dedication services together at the newly-rebuilt church only two blocks from Mrs. Doud's home.

Mrs. Eisenhower attended Sunday school as a girl in the original church.

About Town And Country

its appreciation," he said.

JIM BOLEN'S VOICE is on a recording that should be out in a couple of weeks.

Jim last Friday got a call to get to Indianapolis to cut a disk for the Groove label, subsidiary of RCA-Victor. He chartered a plane here and Travis Gannon flew him to Indianapolis, where he met with three members of the Ted Weems group—Bill Gannon, pianist and arranger, Ted Stanford, vocalist with the band, and the trombonist, and recorded some vocal numbers together.

They made one that will either be called "Roll and Rock" or "Rock Your Blues Away." The other side will be "I've Counted You Out."

Jim said that he arrived in Indianapolis about 9:30 a. m. and was handed two manuscripts to look over at the hotel. Then the group went to the recording studio where a band spent two hours rehearsing, then cut the band background for the male singers.

Then the quartette practiced about two hours, put earphones on and sang their songs as they listened through earphones to the band background that already was recorded.

Record Insured Loans by FFA

WASHINGTON — The Farmers Home Administration made and insured farm loans totaling a record $293,190,000 in the recent fiscal year.

The Agriculture Department said Monday that loans in the previous year totaled $292,432,000. About a third of the fiscal 1955 total $108,500,000, represented emergency loans to farmers and stockmen hit by drought, floods and other disasters.

The insured farm loan program, under which funds advanced by private lending agencies are insured by the government, expanded greatly during the year. Of a record total of $50,932,000 lent to farmers for buying and developing farms, $31,932,000 was insured. The remaining $19,000,000 was lent from government funds.

Who Rides With Wyatt by Will Henry

Copyright 1954, 1955 by Will Henry. Used by arrangement with Random House.

XXI

It was a blustery, sand-drifting night in late September that brought Ceferino Sebastiano Jimenez Pazy Gutierrez dog-trotting through the whirligusts of Toughnut Street and shivering up to Wyatt's office door.

It was not the first time that the little Mexican had come bearing messages through the night in the past half year. And with the exception of two, three telegrams, those messages had all come from one source; one a site more interesting than the U. S. law officer up to Phoenix.

Wyatt dug in his vest pocket, flipped him his silver dollar.

Chico bowed himself stiffly out. He was gone in less time than it took Wyatt to smile after him. But pretty quick Wyatt dropped the smile, clamped his black hat on, and headed toward the rear of the Bird Cage.

Lilly stood aside for him, holding the rickety door while he slipped inside, got his broad back to its planks and eased it shut for her.

"Haven't seen it to blow like this since Kansas. Makes the old shack feel right cozy, I allow."

"I allow it always feels that way when you're in it," said Lilly, soft-voiced.

She snuggled closer and held on to the little moment of nearness. Wyatt was a strange one. She had known him all these months, worshipped him outright and he knew it. Yet in all that time he hadn't laid a hand on her more than half a dozen times.

He put his backside to the glow of the old potbelly stove, spread his long legs and cocked his shaggy head to let on like he was all business.

"Chico was a mite stirred up," he grunted. "Like as if there might be something blowing around Tombstone beside the wind."

"Johnny Ringo. He was here earlier tonight."

"You've not been seeing him?" It was a flat statement, not a question.

"He wasn't here two minutes. He never even took his hat off. Just left his message, got back on his horse, and drifted."

"Go on," he ordered, his eyes narrowing. He was all at once over his mad. That built-in alarm system of raw animal wariness, that no working gunman lives long without, was prodding him plenty now. He was suddenly thinking all about Ringo, none about Lilly Bellott.

"He said to tell you the boys just had a meeting over to Sulphur Springs and you drew the black straw. It's not Behan this time, but Curly Bill. He's put the word out to get you, any way, any time, any place. Just so it's clean and sure, with no cat-mess left that Behan can't dig a good enough hole to cover over."

"That all?" he asked quietly. "Saving this. He said to tell you he reckoned you and him were even for San Angelo. Whatever that means."

"When I was a boy," he began softly, "I had a dog."

"My father brought Shep home one winter night, half-starved and so pitiful scared he wouldn't come up to anybody. He wasn't more than six, seven months old, maybe not that much. My father had got him in town."

"There was four of us boys. My father called us all into the kitchen and showed us Shep, shivering and growling, back in under the stove."

"Naturally, we all whistled and stamped at him, clapping our hands and carrying on like boys will with a new pup. Shep only growled the more. Pretty quick, my father said to let up on him, that he'd just wanted to show us something—that you couldn't crowd even a dog into being your friend. He'll likely take to one of you, he said, and follow along after that one. That will be the one he trusts, and that he wants to be his friend."

"Morg, he went first. Then Virg and Warry. Shep never moved, only to follow them with his eyes and to hair-up at each of them in his turn. When I started out, he quit growling, gave a sort of wait-yelp, and came halfway out from under the stove. I stopped and he snuck on over to me and began pawing my overalls."

"My father just bobbed his head and said, 'You've got a dog, boy. See you look after him.'"

"He took to killing sheep, before he was a year old. My father caught him at it. He put a rope on him and brought him home to me. He gave me the end of the rope, then fetched the old bullgun from the corner back of the wood-box where it was always kept. He looked to see that it was capped and primed, nodded to me and handed it over. All he said was, 'He's your dog, boy. Look after him.'"

"It was the hardest thing I ever did, Lilly."

"Then?" said Lilly, seeing it was coming hard and wanting to ease it for him.

"Then, I found Johnny Ringo under the stove. I called him out and I let him follow me off. I patted him on the head and held still for him to lick my hand."

Lilly was afraid of him, then. Before she said it to him, she knew what his answer would be. She knew, even as she touched his arm. Even as she looked up to him and pleaded, husky-voiced.

"Let him go, Wyatt! There's no rope in your hand, now."

"He's my dog," said Wyatt dully. "I got to look after him."

There are six coon-hound breeds—blue tick, red bone, black and tan, English, treeing Walker and Plott. The only one recognized by the American Kennel Club is the black and tan.

John Arbuthnot, a Scotsman, was the creator of the character known as John Bull.

Six Killed in Crash of B25

MITCHELL AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y. — An Air Force B25 twin-engine bomber crashed and burned in a cemetery shortly after taking off from here today. All six persons aboard were killed.

Three bodies were recovered immediately after the flames were put out by fire crews from the base and nearby towns.

The plane carried three crewmen and three passengers en route to Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. The passengers were identified by a base spokesman as a soldier, a retired Air Force colonel and a civilian.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane had reported engine trouble and was returning to the base when it crashed into an unused section of Greenfield Cemetery a short distance from the busy Southern State Parkway.

The plane apparently caught fire on impact, the spokesman said.

List All 13 Dead In B29 Crash

WASHINGTON — The Air Force today listed as dead all 13 men aboard the B29 which crashed into the sea between Formosa and Japan last Thursday.

The dead included: Capt. Richard F. Jones, husband of Mrs. Janice Elaine Jones, Kadena Air Base, Okinawa, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Jones, Kewanee, Ill.

1st Lt. Wendel Van Bebber, husband of Mrs. Ruby Van Bebber, RFD 4, Carlinville, Ill.

S.Sgt. Harold J. Matheis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Matheis, Dubois, Ind.

Two Cars, Engine Of Train Derailed

CHICAGO (UP) — Two cars and an engine of a crowded Rock Island suburban passenger train were derailed here today.

Thirty feet of the Rock Island's main line tracks at 18th St. and Clark were torn up, but no injuries were reported.

The engine and cars remained upright. The Loopbound train originated in Blue Island.

Family Receives Prayers, Aid For 9 with Polio

DURAND, Ill. — Keron Walsh, father of nine polio-stricken children, stood on the front porch of his wooden farmhouse today and said:

"We need a lot of prayers."

He was getting them. And lots more besides.

All through the night into the day, nearly every one of the 679 residents of Durand trekked to Walsh's farmhouse, offering prayers, food, money and help.

Their sympathy was aroused when the ninth of the Walshes' 14 children was stricken within 10 days after the first case.

The latest victim, Edward, 16, was stricken Sunday and taken to Winnebago County Hospital, in Rockford, 15 miles southeast of here.

A brother, 17, was afflicted Saturday and was in critical condition at home.

A sister, Rosellen, 5, was convalescing from the disease in St. Anthony's hospital in Rockford. And six other children, ranging in age from 1 to 15 years were under observation at their home.

Walsh and his wife, 49, were perplexed about their misfortune. "It's beyond us," Walsh said. "There's not a case of polio in Winnebago county except ours."

Mother of Eight Shot in Quarrel

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—A family quarrel led to the shooting of an East St. Louis mother of eight children Monday.

Police reported that Mrs. Dorothy Milner of 1236 A. N. Ninth St. was shot three times, suffering wounds in the abdomen, right leg and left wrist.

Her husband, Joseph Milner, 59, was being held by police but no charges had been placed against him.

Police Capt. Frank Cook said Mrs. Milner, 37, told him Milner shot her during an argument. Milner had a .45 caliber revolver in his pocket when he was picked up.

The shooting occurred in the doorway of a bedroom in which four of the children were sleeping.

One of them a 14-year-old girl, said the argument arose over her and her sister staying out late Sunday night.

Everybody Drinks, But Who Pays?

MANITOWOC, Wis. (AP)—It was all a big joke until the fists started flying.

Charles Kirwan, 19, rural Manitowoc, stepped up to the bar and announced, "When I drink... everybody drinks."

Sheriff Lester Nichols said everyone in the house had one. Then the bartender tried to collect from Kirwan.

"When I pay... everybody pays," Kirwan said.

A fight followed. A woman was insulted. Sheriff's deputies were called.

Kirwan and a friend were arrested. Municipal Judge Harold W. Mueller gave them 10-day jail sentences Monday.

"I don't know if the bill ever got paid or not," the sheriff said.

Defense Claims Bank Cashier, Wife Held Hostages to Save Bandit from Mob

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Defense Atty. Joseph Londrigan said today bank robber Clifford Eugene Hubbard held bank cashier and Mrs. Harry W. Waldheuser as hostages on an escape ride "only to save his own life."

Waldheuser and another bandit, Thomas Underwood, 26, Washington Park, were killed in the crash that ended the escape attempt. Underwood and Hubbard, 26, Collinsville, had been trapped in the Waldheuser home when they tried to get the cashier to open the Kampsville, Ill., bank safe May 1.

Londrigan made an opening statement for the defense after the government rested its case and Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie overruled motions for acquittal. Londrigan recounted substantially the same story as outlined by the government. But he said Hubbard would testify there was "no intention to kill or harm" the Waldheusers and they were forced to go on the wild ride only to save the lives of Hubbard and his companion from a "mob" which surrounded the home.

He said the defense would prove that Waldheuser was not killed in the accident but by bullets fired by the mob which chased the fleeing car.

He said Hubbard would testify he wanted to surrender to a state policeman but feared the mob would kill him before one arrived and that the people around the home would carry out their threat to "blow his head off" if he came out with his hands up.

The robbery attempt took place last May 1 when Hubbard and Thomas Underwood, 26, Washington Park, Ill., demanded that Waldheuser open his home safe. Waldheuser persuaded the bandits to wait until a time lock would do the job the next morning.

The bandits, however, were spotted by Mrs. Jesse Campbell from next door. She and her husband, mayor of the town, summoned a party of 25 men and surrounded the Waldheuser home.

The bandits took the Waldheusers and fled in an automobile amid a shower of bullets from pursuers. The car was wrecked a few miles north of Kampsville. Waldheuser, 63, and Underwood were found dead and Mrs. Waldheuser was injured. Two bullet holes were found in Waldheuser's back.

$250,000 Fire at Abandoned Packing Plant

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A raging fire burned on today at an abandoned Cudahy Co. packing plant, where it has destroyed four major buildings and several smaller ones, and caused damage estimated at more than $250,000.

The fire, however, was under control. Earlier there was fear of the fire spreading to active plants in the stockyards district, and all off-duty firemen were called to battle the flames.

Indians Seek to Settle Scores with Senators in Opening of 3-Game Series

By United Press
The Cleveland Indians aim to settle a couple of scores with the sad sack Senators tonight, the first one having to do with something personal and the second one with something like $10,000 per man.

On the personal side, the Indians are fed up with the increasing needling they have been subjected to from the seventh-place Senators, who have beaten them 12 out of 19 games this year.

Then there's the always vital matter of World Series money. The Indians, who lead the American league by 1 1/2 games, are convinced they can eliminate the last major obstacle in their road to the pennant by capturing at least two games of the three game series which opens with a two-night doubleheader at Griffith Stadium tonight.

Two Veterans to Pitch
Toward that end, Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, who says "this series can make or break us," has nominated two of his pressure-tested right-handers, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia, to pitch against Washington in tonight's twin-bill.

Chuck Dressen, the fiery little Senator skipper who vows he'll treat the next three games as if they are world series contests, indicated his pitching choices may be souped-up sucky McDermott in the opener and right-hander Bob Porterfield or left-hander Chuck Stobbs in the nightcap.

The Yankees, a game and a half off the pace and one game down in the all important last column, are having troubles of their own. But their troubles could suddenly dissolve if they were to beat the Tigers today while the Indians lose their double kip to the pesky Senators. Such a series of events would result in a tie between Cleveland and New York for first place.

Yanks to Use Turley
Casey Stengel is sending his right handed fast-baller Bob Turley to the mound against Detroit today while Bucky Harris of the Tigers has given the nod to Bob Miller, a 20-year-old bonus hurler who has just returned to Detroit after compiling an 8-2 record with Augusta of the Sally league.

The third-place White Sox, who are 3 1/2 games back, are at Baltimore for a two-night doubleheader, while the Red Sox, who insist they still have a chance even though they are six games behind, meet the Kansas City Athletics in a two-nighter.

In the only game scheduled Monday night, the last-place Pirates defeated the seventh place Cardinals, 9-3, behind the six-hit pitching of southpaw Lino Donoso. Dale Long and Frank Thomas each homered for the Pirates while Stan Musial clouted his 29th and 30th homers for the Cards.

Babe Zaharias Urges Everyone to Aid Cancer Fight

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Famed athlete Babe Didrikson Zaharias appealed to everyone "to get in this fight" against cancer today as she prepared to leave the hospital after a second bout with the disease.

The Babe is scheduled to leave John Sealy Hospital Wednesday. She said she and her husband will start a voluntary fund for early detection and treatment of cancer "to save as many lives as possible."

The famed woman golfer, often referred to as the world's greatest all-around woman athlete, announced establishment of the fund from her hospital bed Monday.

A Galveston bank pledged the first $1,000 to the fund and the Babe matched the bank's contribution.

Hospital attendants said Mrs. Zaharias was in "good" condition. She said she was anxious to get to her new home in Tampa, Fla., to "start practicing golf and fooling around with flowers."

The Babe said she plans to start playing in tournaments next year "if the doctors will let me." She said she "will only play in the big ones now."

Mrs. Zaharias, who first was stricken with cancer in 1953, appealed to everyone "to get into this fight" and send voluntary contributions to the "Babe's Cancer Fund, Galveston, Tex."

No practice, no play. Eleven members of the Centralia high school varsity football team missed a practice session last week and have been benched for the opening game Sept. 16 against Flora.

The story from Centralia is that two practice sessions were scheduled for last Wednesday and 11 varsity players skipped the second of the two sessions.

Disciplined included end Harold Welch, tackle Tom Dodillet, guards Don Richards and Lonnie O'Neal, quarterback Jim Morris, halfback Dan Laughlin and fullbacks Larry McGreevey. From the second team were Dick Norwood, Roland Lawson, Ron Niemann and Junior Schuchman.

Centralia coach Evers has said he will take his freshman-sophomore first team along to Flora to make sure there are adequate reserves.

Jim McKee, former HTHS teacher and member of the coaching staff who returned to his home town of Centralia this year and planned to drop his coaching duties, is back in the football business. Centralia had an unusually large group of freshmen to report for football this year it is said and McKee was asked to help out. He is.

The first varsity football game to be played in McLeansboro in a quarter of a century is scheduled for Friday night when Sesser visits the Hamilton county seat.

In addition to a football game there will be a dedication of the new gridiron and it is said there will be a free game, with everyone invited to attend the dedication ceremonies which will be held just before the kickoff.

McLeansboro returned to the football wars last season, playing strictly "B" squad schedule and originally it was said this plan would be followed for at least two years to give the school a chance to develop varsity calibre players.

The team did so well in the 1954 season that it was then decided to plunge into varsity ball in 1955 and a full schedule was arranged.

McLeansboro's football coach is Leroy "Moose" Seville, SIU graduate who coached at Carterville last year. He succeeds John VanderPlum, Harrisburg native, who resigned to enter private business.

McLeansboro's schedule:
Sept. 16 Sesser home, Sept. 23 Eldorado home, Oct. 1 Bethalto away, Oct. 7 Cahokia home, Oct. 14 Valer home, Oct. 21 Johnson City away, Oct. 28 Metropolis away, Nov. 4 Christopher home, Nov. 11 Carmi home.

When Stan Musial took part in the Cardinal victory over Cincinnati, Sept. 5, he extended his consecutive game streak to 600, the longest in the majors. The Sporting News points out that Stan's record of 600 straight games is the fifth longest in National League history and 22 behind the record of Gus Suhr of the Pirates from September of 1931 to June of 1937.

Billy Martin, who joined the New York Yankees from the Army on August 31, is eligible for the World's Series. But Jim Konstanty, who was with the club all season except for a three-week stint at Richmond, is not eligible because he wasn't with them on the magic date, which is September 1, according to The Sporting News.

Louise Suggs Wins Women's Open, Quits for Year

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Louise Suggs, smooth-swinging Sea Island, Ga., golfer who won the $3,000 women's open here by six strokes, said today that she is "through for the year."

Walking off with the $900 first prize Monday, Miss Suggs said she will devote the next few months to her new job as president of the Women's Professional Golf Assn. and to teaching at Sea Island.

She shot her fourth successive sub-par round in the final to pile up an 11-under-par 289 on the Norwood Hills Country Club course.

Mary Lena Faulk, former national amateur champion from Thomasville, Ga., finished second with a 295, one stroke better than Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill.

The defending champion, Betsy Rawls, ended in a three-way tie for ninth place with Betty Bush and Fay Crocker.

Nan Berry, Quincy, Ill., copped the amateur title with a 316 total, six strokes better than Gloria Pecht of Los Angeles.

Stars Defeat Henderson, 5-3

The Harrisburg Stars picked up their fifth straight win and their 12th of the season Sunday when they downed a strong Henderson, Ky., nine, 5-3, behind the four-hit pitching of "Big Flo" Shewmake, who turned in a fine pitching job, allowing but one earned run in nine innings of hurling. The game was played at Henderson.

The Stars made two miscues, one a throwing error, and one a passed ball, both allowing one run each.

Henderson scored one run in the sixth on two base hits and a throwing error. They picked up two more in the seventh on three walks and a base hit plus a passed ball.

The Stars, who had five hits in the first four innings, but could not cross the plate, picked up two runs in the eighth when Shewmake got his third hit of the day, followed by a single by Nolen. Karnes was safe on an error and Smith doubled home two runs. They picked up three in the ninth to ice up the game when Stone singled for his third hit of the day, followed by Nolen being safe on an error. Karnes doubled and Ziegler doubled.

Shewmake and Stone, each with three hits in four trips, led both teams at the plate, followed by Karnes and Rod Smith with two each. Ziegler and K. Nolen with one apiece.

Ward was the losing hurler for Henderson with Gaines his receiver. Shewmake went the distance for the Stars with Stone receiving. It was the second victory in two starts for Shewmake.

The Stars will be host to the Grayville nine Sunday at the town park.

Practice will be held Friday at 5 p. m. at the town park.

Stan Musial Season Away from Ott's Record

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals now is only one season away from a National League runs-batted-in record held by Mel Ott. Musial drove in two runs with a pair of bases-empty home runs Monday night as the Cards lost to Pittsburgh, 9-3. That lifted his RBI total for this year to 101, marking the eighth season in his career he has driven in 100 or more runs.

Ott, former Giant star, holds the league record of nine such RBI seasons. Babe Ruth holds the major-league record of 13 seasons.

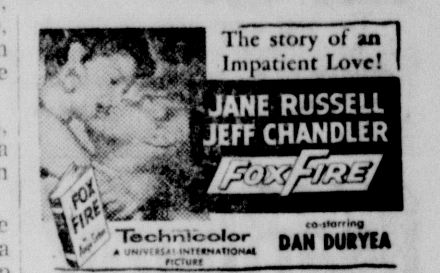

The highest and lowest points in the United States are only 86 miles apart.

Aid to Handicapped An Investment, Gov. Stratton Says

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. William G. Stratton said today the annual report of the division of vocational rehabilitation showed training of the physically handicapped "is an investment rather than an expense."

The report, for the fiscal year ending June 30, showed 3,406 handicapped persons gained employment as a result of the division's services.

Before rehabilitation, 75 per cent of the 3,406 were either wholly or partially dependent on relatives or public aid. Their annual earnings, based on starting wages, now total $6,861,296.

State Welfare Director Otto L. Bettag's report said "taxes on increased earnings of the handicapped repay the cost of rehabilitation in about five years."

Persons rehabilitated last year ranged in age from 16 to 65, and 41 per cent were women. Each person had an average of two dependents.

In one case described, a man confined to a wheelchair and unable to find a job was trained as a shoe repairman. He started a job at $50 a week and soon was supervisor of his department.

Cable cars, which appeared on the American scene in the 1870's, were inspired by the cable-drawn coal cars in English mines.

New Lincoln, First of 1956 Models, On Display Tomorrow at Wiley Motor Co.

The 1956 Lincoln — after more than three years of intensive styling, designing and engineering development — will be on display tomorrow at the Wiley Motor company, local dealer.

First of the 1956 models, the new Lincoln is described by divisional engineers as:

All new—engine, body and chassis.

Styled with a new, low silhouette which highlights its 18½ feet overall length.

More than 7 inches longer, 2½ inches lower and 2 inches wider than the 1955 Lincolns.

Powered by a new 285 hp. V-8 engine of 368 cu. in. displacement and 9 to 1 compression ratio — the most powerful and durable engine Lincoln has built in its 33-year history.

Rated at 401 foot pounds of torque at 2800 rpm — highest torque of any American car.

Up 14 per cent in performance from 0 to 80 mph.

First to introduce a group of regular equipment safety features designed to help protect both driver and passengers — safety-flex steering wheel, safety door locks, safety mirror, non-reflecting instrument panel and seat belts (as optional equipment).

Available in two series: the Lincoln Capri and the more luxurious, new Premiere series.

Lincoln-Mercury dealers from all parts of the country who previewed the 1956 Lincoln at a national meeting in Detroit last month have flooded the newly-established Lincoln Division with orders for the new cars.

U. S. To Seek Information On Missing GIs

WASHINGTON — The United States will press Red China for information about 450 American soldiers missing from the Korean War despite new Communist denials that they are in Peiping's custody.

The new American effort to find out what happened to the missing GIs and to win release of any still alive will be made in the next phase of U. S.-Red Chinese talks in Geneva. The next meeting of ambassadors from the two sides is set for Wednesday.

Red China agreed Saturday to free 41 American civilians as soon as possible, some in a few days. That agreement apparently completed business on the first part of a two-part agenda and cleared the way for discussion of the second — "other practical matters at issue."

The State Department would not say what it intends to raise under this broad heading and usually helpful officials declined to list the subjects privately. But Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said when the talks started that the United States intended to bring up the matter of missing American soldiers.

At the time of the 1953 Panmunjom Korean truce talks, the United States listed 944 GIs as missing and unaccounted for. That number has been trimmed since to 450 who now are listed as missing and presumed dead.

But Dulles said there was slight evidence they might be prisoners.

George Henley, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Henley of this city, who is stationed at a Navy base in Iceland, has been at home for one week, on a leave of absence. He left Sunday for Chicago, en route to Washington, D. C., and will take a plane there to return to Iceland.

Expect Symington To Head Democrat Senate Campaign Committee

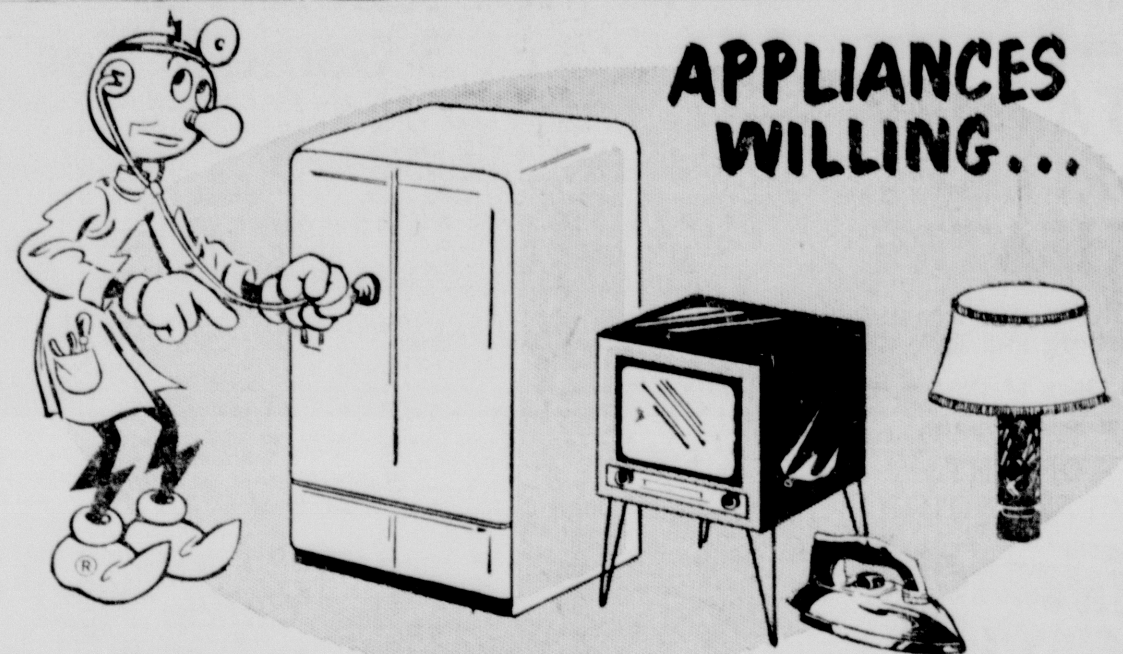

WASHINGTON — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) will soon be named to head the Democrats' Senatorial Campaign Committee for next year's elections, informed sources said today.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) will name the new campaign committee — with Symington as chairman — perhaps as early as next week, Senate informants said.

The campaign committee acts as strategy board for the Democratic candidates who will seek 32 Senate seats next autumn. Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) heads a GOP counterpart.
